Just outside the picturesque village of Biron lies Montauriol, a XVII century manoir, set in 60 acres of largely wooded land. The accommodation is comfortable and generous with a totally French ambiance, being largely furnished with French 'provincial' antiques.

Around the Manoir is a large garden with garden furniture, barbecue, deck chairs, parasols, a sandbox and swing. The grounds to the property are exceptional. Approximately 60 acres (23 hectares) over half of which is natural woodland with wild deer, 15 acres of cultivated pine woodland and 10 of lawns and cut open spaces. A stream runs through the valley. None of this land has had any artificial fertilizers or hunting for the last 30 years.

Les Landes is set in a rural, tranquil location, in 9 hectares of woodland, rocks and heathers. It is only a short walk to the local medieval village of Cardailiac, with its own baker, general store and restaurant. Cardailiac is listed as one of the prettiest villages in France. The lively market town of Figeac is only 10km away.

There are many lovely walks including the official 'Grandes Randonnées' nearby. Within a short drive is the Lot valley with beautiful and historic towns such as Cahors and Cajarc to visit. Also within easy reach are Villefranche de Rouergue, Rocamadour, St. Cirq Lapopie, Bruniquel, and many bastide villages - most with local markets.
